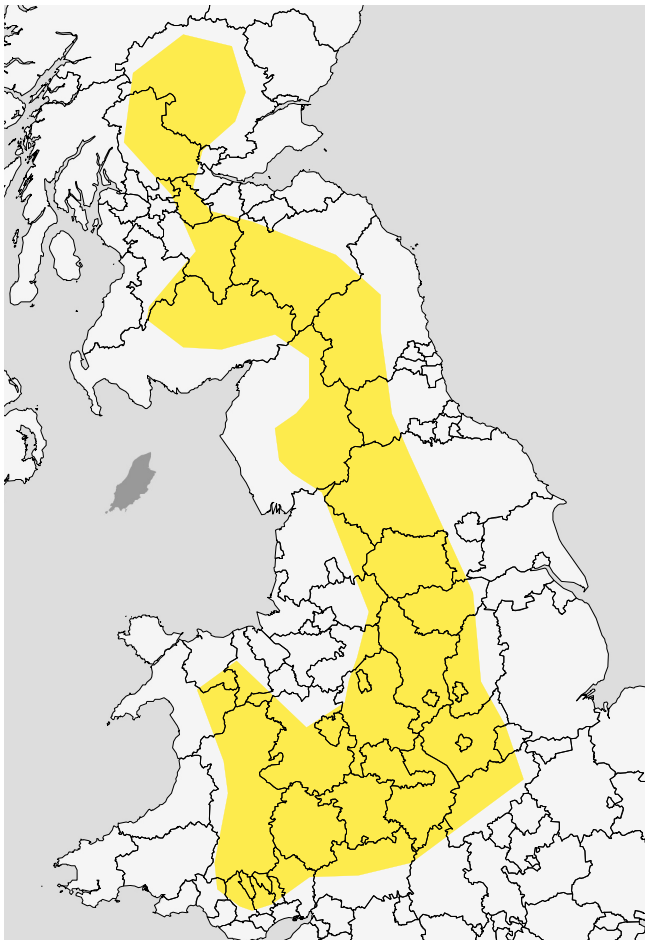
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
00:15 Mon 2 Apr 2018 and
23:45 Mon 2 Apr 2018



Possibility of heavy snow over parts of England, Wales and Scotland, more especially for high ground. Travel may be affected.

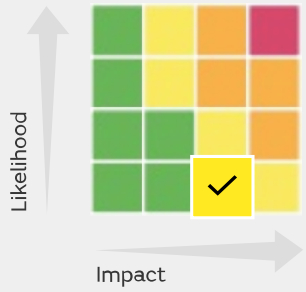
What to expect

- There is a small chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled rail and air travel
- There is a slight chance that some rural communities could become cut off
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected

Further details

As a weather system moves in from the south and comes up against cold air over the UK, there is the chance that rain could turn to heavy snow in places. Several cm of snow are possible, mainly over ground above around 200 m, with drifting in strong winds. There is also the possibility of a few cm of wet snow gathering locally at lower levels.

The snow is likely to be affecting southern part of the warning area in the early part of Monday and to reach Scotland later in the day.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
